

Connecting with Health-conscious Consumers Online

Marketers need to help consumers manage the many weight loss options out there. Three key findings from our recent study with The Modellers suggest how.

Consumers are actively researching across screens. Be there during the moments that matter.

Weight loss consumers spend 27 hours/week on the internet often using a smartphone or tablet

They buy health, diet or fitness products throughout the year, especially in the summer

Many are focused on fitness. Target messages accordingly to reach a wider audience.

30% purchased a fitness club membership in the past year

23% of dieters say gym memberships are most effective

vs. 9% who went with a weight loss service

Cost is a barrier. Offer less expensive or "try-before-you-buy" digital options.

11% want an affordable solution*

58% said cost prevented them from completing a weight loss program

